

Kitchen Assistant

Do you enjoy rolling up your sleeves – tackling both big and small tasks – and love the smell of good food and a great atmosphere?

And are you the type who thrives best with clear structure – and loves being part of a team where everyone helps each other and keeps the day running smoothly?

Yes?!

Then we have a job you don't want to miss

We're looking for a kitchen assistant for one of our canteens – a colleague who is service-minded, hardworking, and eager to make a difference every day.

What does the job involve?

You'll be an important part of a team of four in a medium-sized canteen in Odense, serving around 200 guests daily. We cook from scratch and focus on taste, quality, and sustainability.

Your main tasks:

- Assist with preparation and production in both the cold and hot kitchen
- Take care of buffet setup and replenishment – and greet guests with a smile
- Help with dishwashing and cleaning to keep the kitchen spotless
- Assist with ordering and receiving goods
- Be a key part of the team – and contribute to a positive atmosphere

Who are you?

You're reliable, helpful, and take responsibility. You thrive in a structured environment but are ready to jump in when something unexpected happens.

We imagine you:

- Have experience from a kitchen or canteen – preferably as a kitchen helper or assistant
- Have an interest in food and quality
- Are a great team player who contributes to a good vibe in the kitchen
- Have a positive and flexible attitude – even when things get busy

What do you get with us?

- Lovely colleagues who laugh and work together – and who all love food
- A job with weekends off and working hours Monday to Friday, 7:00–15:00
- A workplace with integrity, humor, and room to be yourself
- Opportunities for professional and personal development through courses, workshops, and plenty of leadership support
- A workday where you help give people the best break of their day

Who are we?

We develop and run canteens in about 80 Danish companies and office buildings across the country.

For many people, we're the highlight of the day – the moment employees look forward to, and one that sparks strong opinions. Food has a wonderful ability to start conversations and create communities.

With a sharp focus on integrity and responsibility, we work every day to give our lunch guests the best break possible – one that makes a positive difference in their lives.

Sounds interesting?

Send us your CV and a few words about yourself. The sooner, the better – we're interviewing on an ongoing basis.

Best regards,

Mikkel – and the world's best kitchen team – Martin, Molly, and Ole
